Tuesday morning's rains brought the Hondo and Quihi Creeks, along with almost all other Medina County streams, life with swirling floodwaters. This view of the junction of the Quihi and Hondo Creeks is just north of the railroad bridge East of Hondo.

GOOD ADVICE

... to businessmen is that given by Dr. William Scholl, the "bunion millionaire." His advice for business: "Early to bed, early to rise, work like hell, and advertise."

I AM EXTREMELY

... pleased with the response I have received to my column last week concerning keeping the Museum open. Some people felt I should have kept my mouth shut, but fortunately for progress of the Museum, these were in a minority.

Most of the people who have called, come by, or mentioned it on the street feel the way I do and that is "what have we all worked for if it wasn't to show it off?"

I was told by one person that one director said, "All that stuff Lawrence wrote is wrong. We don't have the money to hire anyone."

Now, if anyone is interested in seeing the financial report made at the June 4 meeting by Treasurer Mrs. Sally Brucks they can view it by coming by my office. Mrs. Winnie Braden will be happy to show it to anyone.

As I have said before, I am not trying to take credit from any of the Board for the work they have done for our Museum. They have performed a tremendous job and deserve all the credit.

But I happen to think they are dead wrong on their approach to keeping the Museum open and will continue to tell them and the public this in no uncertain terms. But I'll be the first to praise them when they change their minds and operate the Museum during the summer in accordance with our promise to the people.

BOB PEDEN

... has been appointed by Governor Dolph Briscoe to serve as a regional contact for suggestions to be made to the Constitutional Revision Commission.

In this position, Bob will take any suggestions made and refer them to the overall Commission to be included in their material for study.

Congratulations to Bob and I hope he gets a "ton" of suggestions.

In addition to Bob, there are other people you can write to have your suggestions heard. They are: Robert Calvert, Chairman of the Constitutional Revision Commission, Capital Bank Building, Austin, Texas; or Rep. John H. Poerner, Hondo, Texas [or Austin]; or Sen. John Traeger, Seguin, Texas [or Austin].

HAVE YOU HEARD

... of some of the "transportation strategies" of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency? Jim Boyer, assistant director of the Federal agency's program support for Air, Solid Waste, Noise, Research and Monitoring, says these include:

"... the cutting of downtown parking space by one half; enacting a $2 per day tax on downtown parking to force people to use mass transit; forbidding the practice of taxicab cruising; and requiring trucks to carry at least a 20 percent load factor." Boyer says the average truck load is only 10 percent, and that this would eliminate half of the trucks [and drivers says the editor], thereby cutting down on the consumption of fuel and pollution of the atmosphere.

MR AND MRS. FERD ROTHE

... came by the office last week with a request for help that proved to be an interesting assignment.

The late Arthur Rothe, a former Medina County judge, was [as everyone around here knows except us newcomers] Ferd's father. He also was a trackman of some note while attending the University of Texas at Austin. In fact, he must have shown his heels to many a runner, for he ended his career as a Longhorn with a full trophy case.

But back to the story. It seems Ferd and his family have clippings on all the big track meets where Arthur won except one held in Birmingham, Alabama on May 7, 1910.

They had attempted to obtain information on this meet, but could not get an answer from the Birmingham News. So they thought I might get a listen from newspaper people since I'm supposed to be one of them.

Well, we called and was referred to the Reference Library and was told they operated mostly for the convenience of their own newspaper. BUT they would check the microfilm for that date and if they found a story they would take a picture and mail to Hondo.

So we can hope they did find the story and the picture will be

Council approves new budget; no tax increase

The Hondo City Council approved a new budget during Tuesday evening's meeting at the City Hall Auditorium.

The projected figures, unless unforeseen price rises or unexpected expenses come about, show the City with a operating surplus of $156,859.

Estimated receipts for the 1973-74 fiscal year total $1,082,364. Estimated expenditures will reach an anticipated $1,036,775, leaving a balance of $156,859.

The ad valorem tax rate was left at an effective total of 75 cents per $100 valuation.

The Council passed a tax resolution which is slightly different from past tax levies: Where other laws in past years levied an ad valorem tax of 75 cents on the one hundred dollars value of property owned in Hondo, this year's tax is split into 43 cents per $100 for the support and maintenance of Hondo, and 32 cents per $100 in payment of current interest on and providing a 1-year sinking fund for, the outstanding bonds of the City of Hondo.

While the new law still adds up to 75 cents per $100, it provides in advance for retiring debts owed by the City.

The budget was adopted with few objections-the only obstacle being Councilman Chapman's reluctance to provide today for a 5 per cent cost-of-living wage hike for City employees. Such action, thought Chapman, would be premature at this time, and might be impossible at the start of the new year, when such raises would take effect.

Councilman Stanga replied that if that proved to be the case, the budget could be amended at that time. The majority of the Council agreed with Stanga, and the budget was approved as presented.

The budget summary appears on Page 2 of this week's Anvil Herald. In other Council activity, two complaints were registered.

Tom Santos appeared before the group to file a protest of the recent ordinance passed last month by the Council, which requests any grievance committee or group of citizens to submit their complaint in writing, in advance of a Council meeting, to the City Manager. Although the ordinance does provide for immediate hearings by the Council of grievances "in an emergency situation" upon a vote by Council members, Santos said the law may cause "isolation of the governing body from the citizenry".

Mayor Barry countered the protest with the intent of the law, which is to provide a period between complaint and action to allow intelligent planning to take place in order to deal with the problem.

Ernest Bendeke offered to sell a portion of land in eastern Hondo to the City in order to allow for cleaning of the area, which includes a gravel pit. Proper cleaning, stated Bendeke, would cut down on flooding in the low portions of Hondo around Avenue B, such as occurred on Tuesday following locally heavy rains. The Council agreed to study the proposal.

Foreigners view Hondo grain

Three foreign visitors will be in town this morning to observe how Hondo's large grain sorghum operations can be adapted to the economy of the Virgin Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Gaspari and Enrico Gaspari, all of the Virgin Island, have been brought to Texas by the Texas Department of Agriculture. While here, they will be looking at grain operations, with the ultimate purpose in mind of increasing the 'Virgin Islands' output of food grains.

The Gasparis will visit several areas of Texas during their one-week tour, with stops planned at Texas A&M University, Waco, Houston, San Antonio, Hondo, and Huntsville.

While here, they will inspect facilities for storing and processing grain sorghum at Mumme's on Highway 90 East.

Truman McMahon, administrator for the Texas Department of Agriculture, said the Gasparis are grain producers near St. Croix, V.I. They wish to expand their own and their country's output of grain sorghum, and they will be paying special attention to the highly mechanized and specialized elevators and processing plants found in Texas and the southern United States.

Commissioners let contract

The Commissioners Court of Medina County met in regular session in the Courthouse in Hondo Monday morning, and awarded an important contract concerning road sealing in South Medina County.

A bid by the Kelly Construction Company was accepted for the seal coating of 7.5 miles of County road in Precinct 4.

In other action, the County agreed to improve that portion of Highway 90 lying East of the city limits of Castroville, and west of the Bexar-Medina County line.

On Monday, June 25, the Court will meet as a Board of Equalization.

Commissioner Charles Langfeld was absent from Monday's meeting due to illness.

Uvalde C of C sends offer

Communities have to work together just like people to carry out plans toward the accomplishment of goals.

And a letter from the Uvalde Chamber of Commerce to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce brings this point home in a most generous gesture.

This year a conflict of schedule existed on the promotion of both Museum Day Celebration and the Uvalde A-Rama, and both communities felt the conflict.

In this letter the Uvalde Chamber makes a generous offer:

"Dear Mrs. Porter:
"We want to apologize for the conflict in dates on our A-Rama and your Museum Day recently. Somewhere along the way something must have happened and we surely want to cooperate with other communities in the area and assist them in any ventures they have."

"In order not to conflict with your regular dates in 1974 we have set our A-Rama for June 1-2 next year.

"We want you to know that anything we can do to help you on your Museum Day next year, let us know."

"Sincerely yours,
"Cal Newton
"Executive Vice President."

Rothe honored by USDA

Joe H. Rothe, assistant director and state agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, was honored in Washington, D.C. services as a winner of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Superior Service Award.

The Superior Service Award is the highest honor the USDA can bestow on its employees.

Rothe was cited for "creative and animate leadership in mobilizing and coordinating Extension resources in response to continuing and emergency needs of the organization and its clientele."

The only other Texas recipient, George W. Otey, served as an Extension specialist in South Vietnam as part of an Agency for International Development contract program with the USDA.

Rothe is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rothe of Hondo.

'Johnny' to lead Cypress Day

With Johnny Rodriguez, the hottest Country and Western artist around these days, around to greet the homelinks, Sabinal's Cypress Day Celebration on June 16 is expected to be a whopping success. All the excitement of past Cypress Day Celebrations will be available to thrill the spectators, but Johnny, a hometown boy who has made good in a big way, will be the main attraction.

Regular events to be held downtown from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. include: Art and Craft Exhibits and Sales, Antique Flea Market, Ice Cream Parlor featuring home made ice cream and cookies, Catfish giveaway, Dunking game and Balloon Sales.

But look at these special events planned all day long:

The Cypress City Playboys will play from 8 to 9:30 a.m.; and from 8 a.m. to noon the Sabinal Bank will feature a Western Art Exhibit including works by Peter Hurd N.

A. Thomas Hart Benton N. A. : and other outstanding painters.

Other events include: 9-11 a.m., STP Auction; 10 a.m., free kid movie at the Ross Theater; 10:30 a.m., mustache judging; 11-12, fiddlers contest at City Park; 12 noon, barbecue at City Park; 1 p.m. weight lifting contest.

Then comes the big event-- the appearance of Johnny Rodriguez from 2 to 3 p.m. Johnny will be backed by Dale Keith and the Starlight Ramblers.

From 4-5 the Cypress City Playboys again will take over the band stand for an hour of country western music; and this will be followed at 5:30 by a Mexican Food Sale at the City Hall.

Two evening events will close out the day. These will be the rodeo at 8 p.m. at the Rodeo arena on the Utopia Road and a big dance from 9 to 1 to the music of Dale Keith and the Starlight Ramblers.

Letters from the mailbox

June 8, 1973
Dear Mr. Lawrence,
Last evening read your "Sparks" of bafflement, frustration, and anger concerning the Medina County Museum, Inc. Board of Directors decision to carry on with their plan to keep open the museum from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Originally this was arranged on a three week trial basis. Ella Oefinger was appointed to gather attendants who were willing to donate their time for the stated time and three week duration. Through her enthusiastic efforts, she was able to gather enough people of a generous nature, that, she was convinced, would work throughout the summer months from 1-5. A reminder may be in order that this project was a "test run" to observe if it was feasible to keep the Medina County Museum open on a seven day a week basis. Should it prove successful, then, in future years hiring an employee would certainly be in order. At the June 4th meeting a motion was passed that an employee shall be hired only at a regular or special called meeting. Since the directors represent, and are responsible to the Museum Association, this seems the correct road to follow. Doesn't this seem more legitimate than 1 or 2 people ganging up on the board president? Would it be practical to set aside all funds from the donation container for future employment of attendants? Regarding the $8,171.86 May 31st balance on hand - How far will this go toward a new roof for the museum, a second coat of paint, an additional structure climate - controlled to preserve old documents and items that will decay in the present structure. Perhaps our biggest failure has been not to have gained the full support of the citizens of the county seat or the citizens of Medina County as a whole. Remember, this is a County Museum, not that of the County Seat. Can this support be gained by bickering, or a public display of pouting by the publisher of a historic and respected newspaper, and a lack of humility on the part of all of us?
Respectfully,
A lifelong reader of the Hondo Anvil Herald Colvern Huegale
P.S. The museum continues to be open the established hours Saturday and Sunday.
Gentleman:
This is to acknowledge receipt of your third notice about the expiration of my subscription. I suppose my check got lost in the Mail. Because when I received your first notice, I made out a check for $10.00, dated April 18, for a three year subscription. Naturally when I received your second notice I disregarded it. But this morning when I received your third notice, I started checking bank statements.

This check, #1152, has not come thru the bank so I am therefore stopping payment on it and am enclosing herewith my check, #1193, for $10.00 to cover a three year renewal subscription. Incidentally I did not receive my paper this morning, so if you did not mail me one, kindly send me a copy.

I regret this very much, but our present day mail system has lots of room for improvement.

Common Sense Can Save Lives At Rail Crossings

Why take chances? Adults and children alike should observe these warnings:
1. Look both ways before you cross any railroad track.
2. When a crossing gate is down it means a train will soon be passing. Why duck or drive around a gate and take a chance?
3. Walking on railroad tracks might seem like fun, but you are taking a chance of being hit or run over by a train.
4. Many a short cut across railroad tracks has resulted in a short cut to the hospital or morgue.
5. A sure way to hurt yourself is to hop rides on trains.
6. Crawling under, between or climbing over the cars of a standing train is inviting trouble. What if it should start up suddenly?
7. Railroad property and bridges are dangerous places to go hunting or fishing.
8. Why endanger passengers and railroad workers by throwstones and other objects, or shooting at trains and engines.
9. Switches and signal lights are for the safety of trains and people traveling on them. Tampering with them might easily result in a serious accident.

Water level high

Despite continuous heavy use and a not-too-rainy spring, the Edwards Underground Reservoir still is at record levels throughout the Edwards Water District.
The last records of water usage from the reservoir are for 1971, when total usage was 406,800 acre-feet. The average use for the period 1955-1970 was 245,000 acre feet, but in spite of the greatly increased use for both irrigation and municipal and domestic purposes, water levels throughout the area at the end of May recorded two new highs at Hondo and Castroville.
Water levels in the well at New Braunfels on May 7, 1973 equalled the all-time record high, and wells from Uvalde to Kyle were within one to three feet of the record high.
The Edwards Underground Reservoir provides water for an area stretching over six counties from near Brackettville to north of San Marcos.

Medina County Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder is in California to return a man to Medina County to face trial in connection with the "robbery by fire arm" of the John Strait home earlier this year.

EUWD happy at Judge's concern

San Antonio — Col. McDonald D. Weinert, engineer-manager of the Edwards Underground Water District, which embraces Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal and Hays Counties, praised U.S. District Judge Adrian Spears' court order requiring the EUWD and the Texas Water Quality Board to file reports every six months on efforts being made to protect the Edwards Aquifer from pollution.
The EUWD, represented by Attorney Ferd Meyer, had joined the County of Bexar, Sierra Club, Citizens for Better Environment, San Antonio League of Women Voters and American Association of University Women in a suit trying to block the San Antonio Ranch Town development in northwest Bexar County.

Following nine days of hearings, Judge Spears approved the anti-pollution measures outlined for the Ranch Town development. However, the federal judge also expressed deep concern about future development on the recharge zone of the Edwards Aquifer. In this regard he ordered both the EUWD and the TWQB to make their first report by July 1 and to render reports every six months thereafter to his court, as well as to the City of San Antonio and to the County of Bexar, on the status of any development taking place in the portion of the Edwards Aquifer recharge zone located in Bexar County, including, but not limited to, the San Antonio Ranch Town and the University of Texas at San Antonio, as well as the immediate and long-range effort of such development upon the recharge zone and the underground reservoir.

The reports also are to indicate what control measures, if any, are being instituted for the protection of the aquifer, and reflecting the status of any legislation, plans or proposals designed to protect the remaining portions of the recharge zone lying outside Bexar County.

The court order further stated: "This court is firmly convinced that even though the plaintiffs may have, at this stage, technically lost this lawsuit, nevertheless, a very important service has been performed in creating a greater public awareness of the dangers of pollution threatening this very valuable natural resource."

Commenting on the judge's decision, Colonel Weinert said: "We may not have won the recent legal skirmish, but the judge's order calling for semi-annual reports to his court and city and county governments may mean that we will win future wars against pollution of the aquifer."

EUWD has been making concerted efforts to maintain the purity of the unique geological formation that provides underground water to its five counties.

The Edwards Aquifer saves residents of its area hundreds of thousands of dollars each year as a natural system. After rain falls on its recharge zone, the water runs southeastward on the surface and filters down through cracks and fissures into the aquifer, which carries the water in an easterly then northeasterly direction, purifying it en route. The underground reservoir has a safe annual yield that is five times greater than that of Canyon Lake. Furthermore, the Edwards system does not require construction of numerous, expensive purification plants.

When asked what the average citizen can do about protecting the reservoir, the colonel said: "An informed public can bring pressure to bear on its elected leaders and let them know of their desires to keep their water pure."

Texas Water Quality Board has the legal authority to protect the recharge zone, and the Metropolitan Health District in Bexar County and the health agencies in the other counties, as well as those in the cities in the EUWD, have the operational role of seeing that TWQB orders are carried out.

Colonel Weinert said the Texas Water Quality Board Order of 1970 was a "good start" and that revisions of the 1970 order which the TWQB now has under consideration would put real estate subdividers under the control of county health officials.

Shooting victim is 'serious'

Bill McCray, 73, of 2004 Ave. F., Hondo, is in serious condition at Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Antonio, as a result of a self-inflicted wound in the chest with a .45 calibre pistol.
Hondo police were called by Mrs. McCray to his home at about 11:10 a.m. Sunday, and they rushed the wounded McCray to Medina Memorial Hospital.
After emergency treatment there, McCray was airlifted via MAST helicopter to Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Antonio. He was reported in serious condition Sunday night.
The pistol was found beside McCray in his home, although investigation continues into the incident, police said there was apparently no foul play involved in the mishap.

Vandals hit Meyer school

A series of thefts, along with vandalism at Meyer Elementary School, kept police busy over the weekend.
Vandals broke into the Meyer Elementary School Sunday night or early Monday morning. Police Chief Jerry Williamson reported that the intruders threw ink around several rooms including the library, emptied fire extinguishers, and poured rubbing alcohol on a movie projector.
Missing from the school is a tape recorder, a high intensity lamp, and some "mystic tape". Entry was apparently made by breaking a classroom window.
In other action, police are investigating the theft of a tire from an auto at Jack Winkler Motors in Hondo. The tire was taken from a new car parked at the rear of the building, apparently late Saturday or early Sunday.
Two attempted breakins occurred at the Airbase property.
Thieves stole only a watch from the Hondo Golf Course Clubhouse after gaining entry by breaking a door and window.
Intruders also tried to enter the bowling alley at the Airbase, but they failed in that attempt. Police said a window was broken, but nothing was missing and the building was not entered.

Hondo Library gets funds

Hondo Public Library has received a grant of $475 from federal library Services and Construction Act funds administered by the Texas State Library. It is one of 188 libraries in the state with local support that qualified them for the LSCA funds.
In discussing the LSCA program, Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director of the Texas State Library, pointed out the importance of the grants as incentive for improved local support. In 1964 Texas public libraries had funds of $9,640,565. In 1972 funds totaled $24,837,191. In 1964 there were 32 counties without service. By 1972 the number had dropped to 23.
"Also important," he continued, "is the experience in cooperative activities that was gained under the Title III program." The Texas Library Systems Act of 1969 gives Texas libraries the authority to develop cooperative programs and gives the Legislature the authority to appropriate funds for certain statewide programs. Having already gained experience in cooperation, the libraries should be able to take full advantage of the State program when funds are available.

Texas Rangers are commended

A resolution commending the Texas Rangers for their many achievements in the field of law enforcement throughout their 150-year history was unanimously adopted by the National Governors' Conference during the annual meeting of the nation's governors last week at Lake Tahoe, Nevada.

The resolution, introduced by Governor Dolph Briscoe, praised the Texas Rangers as the oldest State law enforcement agency in North America and congratulated the Rangers on this year's observance of their sesquicentennial.

The Governors, in adopting the resolution, called attention to the heritage of the Texas Rangers "which has brought great credit to the State of Texas and to law enforcement officers throughout the United States."

Ranger Captain Clint Peoples and six other Texas Rangers attended the National Governors' Conference at the special invitation of Nevada Governor Mike O'Callaghan. Last year, when the National Governors' Conference was held in Houston, the Rangers assisted in security.

(Attached is the resolution adopted by the National Governor's Conference).

RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Texas Rangers, the oldest state law enforcement agency in North America, are celebrating their 150th Anniversary during 1973; and

Whereas, The Rangers have faithfully protected the people of Texas since 1823 when Stephen F. Austin, the father of that state, commissioned a small group to range his colony to protect the settlers from marauding Indians; and

Whereas, Since that time, the Texas Rangers have evolved from a frontier military organization to an elite criminal law enforcement unit within the Texas Department of Public Safety; and

Whereas, The Texas Rangers are today specifically charged with four major duties: (1) protection of life and property from violence, (2) suppression of riots and insurrections, (3) apprehension of fugitives, and (4) investigation of major felony crimes; and

Whereas, Throughout the 150 years of their history, the Texas Rangers have contributed immeasurably to the safety of the people of Texas, have symbolized fearless and efficient law enforcement, and have left a heritage which has brought great credit to the State of Texas and to law enforcement officers throughout the United States; and

Whereas, The Texas Rangers were in charge of security at the 64th Annual National Governors' Conference held in Houston in 1972; and

Whereas, Seven members of the Texas Rangers are special emissaries to this 65th Conference;

Now Therefore, The National Governors' Conference hereby congratulates the Texas Rangers upon the observance of their sesquicentennial and comments them for their long history of achievement in law enforcement.

San Geronimo dam approved

The Board of Directors of the Edwards Underground Water District at a special meeting on June 5 authorized the expenditure of funds to secure necessary land for the construction of a small concrete recharge dam on San Geronimo Creek a short distance north of its crossing of FM 471, north of Castroville.

This action was made possible with agreement by affected landowners on the price to be paid.

A permit to use water behind the dam to recharge the underground reservoir must be secured from the Texas Water Rights Commission, and the engineers will require several months to prepare plans and specifications.

Policeman has a bad night

Hondo Police officer Arnold Guajardo had a busy, but unlucky night Saturday while on patrol in Hondo.

His patrol car was involved in a minor accident, and he was bitten by a rattlesnake within a thirty-minute period.

Guajardo escaped serious injury in both of the scrapes.

The officer's car was involved in a collision Saturday night while he was chasing a speeder on Highway 90, but damage was minor to both his patrol car and the other auto involved.

Then, about a half hour later, Guajardo stepped from his car while on routine patrol duty, and was bitten on the leg by a rattlesnake.

Once again, Guajardo was not injured seriously. The snake died of multiple gunshot wounds.

June 14 ... Today marks the 78th observation of our nation's Flag Day, so designated in 1895. Texas has its own Flag Day, a legal holiday observed on Independence Day, March 2, which the date-changers have not got around to meddling with so far.

When our state flag is flown out-of-doors, usage rules [adopted in 1933] specify that it must be on a flagpole or staff at least two and one-half times as long as the flag. Might well to remember that, come next March 2nd.

Next Thursday, June 21, warrants a bit of flag flying too, when summer arrives. Here, as elsewhere over the country, the season hasn't waited to begin but it has been practicing with temperatures in the high 90's. Fringe benefits have been the delightfully cool nights and early mornings with a much needed rain as a bonus.

Although I frequently refer to my one-volume Columbia Encyclopedia [1950 edition] it was not until a few days ago that I discovered HONDO was included in its informative contents. "... unincorporated town, pop. 3000...etc." so you can see how far behind the times that is today.

Another entry listed HONDO [Japan], see HONSHU -which I did and learned that this island city off central Japan boasts an area of 88,000 sq. mi. and a 1947 pop. of almost 59 million. But, so what?

It's much easier to find a parking place in our Hondo, or was when I left there a year ago!

Lewis Carroll [Alice in W'land] is said to have coined the verb "chortle" which comes in very handy as I describe what I do when I read such as this about the "New Math" whose "Earlier Novelty" has now worn off to where the "seems" show, in spite of the "superior teaching" required:

Says one math consultant "We ... are just swinging the pendulum back from the study of mathematics for the sheer beauty of the subject..." this, after the admission by many educators that, the hitch is, many of the kids can't add, subtract, multiply or divide.

According to the base-number system [base 5 in this case] 334 plus 334 equals 1223. [Don't ask me how or why!] But, I have about decided that Base 5 is what some cash registers must be geared to as the HCL mounts ever upward.

HALF-CENTURY NOTES:

If the present efficient administrator of the Medina County Memorial Hospital would like to know what he was doing on even date, 50 years ago, here's the report, verbatim, from the Society Notes of this newspaper:

"Postmaster and Mrs. Alfred M. Finger and little son, MELVIN, are camped somewhere under the umbrageous shade of a scrubby mesquite tree, whiling away their time drowning worms & other fish bait in an effort to provide themselves with food necessary to prevent famine in camp. Of course, the fish are enjoying the outing as much as the fishermen for the Finger family is furnishing them a few free meals - unless the unsuspecting fish happen to get hooked."

Brooms, per se, might not evoke many nostalgic memories but the contribution made by broomcorn as an income crop for Medina County does merit more than just hail-&-farewell note.

GEORGE KOCH, known as "Mr. Broom Corn" in the trade, has championed the cause and invested much time and money in the battle against imports and other problems that have beset U.S. growers. Fifteen thousand acres of broomcorn once produced mighty welcome income for the county's growers but -- "Sic transit gloria of the broomcorn" mundi!"

From Barbados, Lesser Antilles, W.I., comes word of a new word. Gravediggers, protesting being "treated like dirt" call themselves "soil technicians."

Beef eaters who might be thinking about joining the "Eat more possum" trend, might do well to compare the price. An Alabama man, said to have originated the idea, sells [or tries to see] "Pedigreed Possums, $125 each."

Might be cheaper to stick to top sirloin or prime ribs!

Mrs. John [Katherine] CONRAD of Devine reached her 96th birthday on April 27, and is among Medina County's much beloved nonagenarians. The list of family members and friends who attended her birthday party attest to how much she is loved.

Some years ago I spent a pleasant afternoon with Miss Katherine and her daughter, Miss OLGA, and I have happy memories of the visit.

Incidental information: Port Aransas is one of the relatively few cities in Texas which attempts to enforce the Texas state law making it a misdemeanor [fine $22.50] to leave one's keys in a motor vehicle.

If you're going fishing over thataway, better fish for your keys before leaving your car.

Miss Poore weds Kenneth Allen

Elyse Poore and Kenneth Howard Allen were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, May 26, at Los Angeles Heights Methodist Church in San Antonio. The Reverends Jimmy Campbell and Paul Perry officiated.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Larkin, of Devine, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen of San Antonio.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory gown of peau de soie with an overdress of miramist. The A-line dress featured Camelot sleeves and a ring collar. The bodice, collar, and cuffs were encrusted with pearls and crystal teardrops.

The cathedral length train fell from the empire waistline and featured a flounce edged in lace. The cathedral length silk illusion veil fell from a demi-cap headpiece that was also encrusted with jewels.

The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother. The bride carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

The attendants were attired in formal gowns of a bright floral chiffon made up of citrus colors of grape, watermelon, raspberry, and peach.

The dresses featured scoop necklines, butterfly sleeves, and empire waists accented with raspberry-colored ribbons.

Mrs. Howard Haden of San Antonio was her sister's Matron-of-honor.

Mrs. Ivan Chant, also a sister of the bride, was honor attendant, and Terri Chant, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid.

Shannon and Nicole Haden, also nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They all wore cloth flowers in their hair and carried baskets of spring flowers.

The groom's best man was his brother Robert Allen of San Antonio, and honor attendant was Roger Allen of Denver, Colorado.

James Chant, the bride's nephew, was junior groomsman.

Ushers included Ivan Chant, Howard Haden of San Antonio, Don Harkey of San Saba, Mike Smith of San Antonio, Kenneth Pulley of Houston, and Eugene Mangum of San Antonio.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Larkin chose a formal gown of orchid and pink voile. The dress had a ruffled neckline and long sleeves with a ruffle at the wrist. The waistline was accented with an orchid sash. She wore a corsage of pink baby orchids.

The groom's mother wore a baby pink formal gown of chiffon. The dress had a gathered skirt, long sleeves, and a V-neckline which was edged in a stand-up ruffle. Her corsage was of pink baby orchids.

The church altar was flanked with twenty-four tapered and an arrangement of flowers. Ivy cascaded from the candelabras. Cheryl Henry of Jourdanton was soloist and sang

"Never My Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

At the reception in the church fellowship hall, the brides table was covered in white cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of gladiolas and spring flowers with four lighted tapers. Baskets of flowers sat on each side of this arrangement.

The bride's cake was a three-tiered confection with sweet peas cascading down the white columns that separated the tiers.

The top decoration was an arrangement of white love birds. Servers included Mrs. Fred Collins of Portland and Brenda Cover of San Antonio.

The groom's table was covered in a neutral cloth and held a German chocolate cake. A basket of flowers sat on this table. Servers were Elizabeth Rollins of Belton and Beverly Albrecht of Goliad. Keeping the bride's registry was Mrs. Dub Wells of Lytle.

Kim and Todd Chant, twin niece and nephew of the bride, and Jennifer and David Allen, niece and nephew of the groom, handed out the rice bags which hung from a decorative white rice bag tree upon which the rice bags and white love birds perched throughout the reception. The little girls were attired just like the attendants.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a short white dress of Mexican lace. The dress had long sleeves and a square neckline, and was trimmed with ribbon with a tiny rose design on it. Her sandals and bag featured multi-colored stones on them.

She also wore a choker of pearls which was a gift from the groom.

After a week's honeymoon at the Playboy Club in Ochios Rios, Jamaica, the couple will be at home at Shalimar Apts. in San Marcos.

A good babysitter needs a lot more than a way with kids

Of course a babysitter should like children. And like taking care of them. But the job also involves some pretty big responsibilities.

Caring for little ones means being able to handle just about any emergency. Because emergencies often require the use of the telephone, a handy list of important numbers can do wonders for your sitter's confidence.

So write down the phone numbers for fire, police, medical assistance and the places you'll be while out. Keep the list right next to the phone, and remember to call home if your plans change.

Interested in getting more for your telephone dollar?

We'll send 30 tips to help you save time and money. No charge. We'll also include an Emergency Numbers List.

Maintenance men commended

AUSTIN -- The more than nine thousand maintenance employees of the Texas Highway Department today were saluted for their work during the worst winter and early spring in recent history.

A letter of commendation from the Texas Highway Commission went to the heads of some 250 maintenance sections in Texas.

"The past few months serve to remind us of the skill, courage and dedication of you and your crews in emergency situations," the letter said.

Highway Department maintenance crews are based in almost every one of Texas' 254 counties. Primarily, their job is to keep the highways in good condition, patching pavements, making minor repairs on structures, picking up litter and caring for natural vegetation and landscaping along the roadside, upkeep of Texas' 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and turnouts and other tasks involved in good highway housekeeping.

In the process, maintenance crews often act as Good Samaritans, coming to the aid of stalled or stranded motorists.

But in times of natural disaster, the crews put in long hours clearing snow and ice off the highways, sanding bridges and putting out warning signs and flares.

Hondo maintenance men cited for their service are, according to Maintenance Supervisor Albert W. Schwobe: Roberto A. Alvarez, Simon S. Arcos, Raymond J. Biediger, Joseph H. Bippert, James H. Bohlen, Ramon Carasco, and Diego DeLeon.

Also Francisco G. Gonzales, Pablo G. Gonzales, Clinton J. Groff, Royce R. Hartmann, Henry M. Highsmith, Eddie W. Johnson, Samuel J. Koehler, and Frank D. Nehr.

Also, David H. Neumann, Ambrose Rymers, Andrew L. Schneider, Calvin P. Schott, Rudolph Spratt, John H. Walker, Gerhard H. Weynand, Frank E. Wolff, Emmett R. Wurzbach, and Jerome J. Zinsmeyer.

Knock out midge.

SPRAY DIAZINON. Sorghum midge can be a yield killer. When it hits, it hits hard — often cuts yields in half or more. Be alert! Check your fields often. And if midge starts to build up, get Diazinon on fast by ground or aerial application. Timing of your spray and good coverage are critical. For 1.25 per acre knock out midge. See us today for Diazinon.

Migrant booklet available

A new social security booklet for migrant farm workers is available at the San Antonio social security office at 309 Dwyer Avenue.

The 12-page booklet, "When You Work in the Fields," explain how workers build social security protection for themselves and their families, according to Roy L. Swift, social security district manager.

"It explains how to apply for a social security number and how to keep records of work and earnings that build social security protection," Swift said. "It briefly describes social security's four programs--retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare."

Single copies of the booklet are free on request.

For further information, see your social security representative when he is in Hondo at the City Hall at 8:45 a.m. on Mondays.

Spike buck hassle sparks State study

Austin -- Controversy over spike bucks is going to be settled once and for all as a 4 1/2-year Parks and Wildlife Department study progresses.

The question with spiked bucks is whether they are inferior to forked-antlered deer, live on inferior range or are merely bucks which will develop into possible trophy deer.

The Parks and Wildlife Department gets into the picture in determining whether spikes should be hunted or not.

Nutritional research of spikes has been conducted in both Pennsylvania and Louisiana.

The Parks and Wildlife Department will also study nutritional spikes and carry the research one step further with work on possible genetic spikes.

Preliminary work is already in progress.

Several tame, captive does have been bred and the department hopes to obtain 12 of their male offspring.

The department's Kerr Wildlife Management Area in the Hill Country will be the center of operations under the direction of, project leader Bob Cook.

The fawns will be weaned and then penned on the Kerr Area. Some of the deer will be fed half rations of protein according to Al Springs, P&W chief of Wildlife Operations.

"Six bucks will be maintained on a seven to nine percent protein diet," said Springs, "and the remaining six will receive an adequate diet of 14 to 16 percent protein as experimental controls."

Nutritional studies in other states demonstrate that spike antler formation in deer is primarily the result of protein deficiencies in young deer during antler development.

If this is the case, the bucks on the restricted diet should develop spike or inferior antlers at 18 months of age and the bucks on full rations should form forked antlers.

All 12 bucks will be bred with does and their male offspring fed nutritionally complete rations until they grow their first true antlers.

The original 12 deer will continue on the prescribed diets until 2 1/2 years of age. At that time three bucks eating protein-deficient food will be switched to full protein diets and three deer on full rations will be cut to half rations.

If the original deer develop forked antlers after going on the full diet and their offspring do likewise, it will emphatically demonstrate that nutrition is the key.

Now comes the hard part.

The genetic phase of the study starts in the Fall of 1974.

A dozen, 18-month old spikes will be trapped from the wild: six from East Texas and six from South Texas.

To the knowledge of Al Springs, no genetic studies have been conducted on white-tailed deer in the U.S.

"Such work," said Springs, "is long-term because we can work with only one new generation of deer each year."

The trapped spikes will be confined on the Kerr Area with 20 to 30 does.

"The same spikes will be bred with the resulting female offspring," said Springs, "and bred again with the granddaughters."

"If spikes are genetic, either carried by the male or female, breeding the original spike with his progeny will concentrate the spike gene in a 'pool' much like selective harvesting of only forked-antlered bucks does in the wild."

Springs pointed out that the genetic segment of the study must run at least 10 years to prove anything at all.

The first results of nutritional work will be available in Fall, 1974, when the captive fawns develop their first antlers.

"The Kerr Area will be open to the public," said Springs, "and we plan to conduct guided tours to demonstrate our findings."

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

EARLY WARNING OF STORM

Anytime you go boating, even for a short period of time, take along a small radio. Pocket-size will do.

Follow this habit, despite the fact that you will boat in an area with which you are thoroughly familiar, and you plan a strictly, pleasure-boat ride.

Make it a must to take along a radio anytime you dedicate a day to fishing—and definitely if you're planning to be out all night.

Why drag along a radio when you're going outdoors primarily to get away from things?

Well, one reason is that the radio could be worth its weight in gold, to you. A radio is fine for entertainment—but it's wonderful as a weather indicator.

A weather indicator? No station broadcasts weather warning all day long!

Maybe not, but the static you complain about, is in many cases advance warning of an approaching storm. There are other reasons for static too, but those loud flashing, sputtering, heavy blasts of ear-splitting static reflect lightning in the area.

Static Is Your Cue

Not all static is indicative of a storm. Some comes from nearby electric transmission lines or faulty or ungrounded electrical equipment in operation. But sudden bursts of static are warning signs. A radio reacts to lightening long before you can see flashes.

To you who are afloat loud static is a warning to "look for storm clouds". As the static gets louder and more frequent it's admonishing you to up anchor, get moving and head for shore.

Many of us get so engrossed in our fishing that we are not very observant of what's happening about us.

Any storm can be dangerous, but if it's coming from the direction you have to travel it's doubly dangerous. In that event you're not racing with it but against it. And one thing for sure is—you can't outrun a 30-mile wind backed by a heavy rain and still drive the boat safely.

So, start early, be extremely careful on the way back—and tie down securely in your dock or on your trailer.

There's nothing safer than shore when you're in a heavy thunderstorm, unless it's inside a solidly built weatherproof structure.

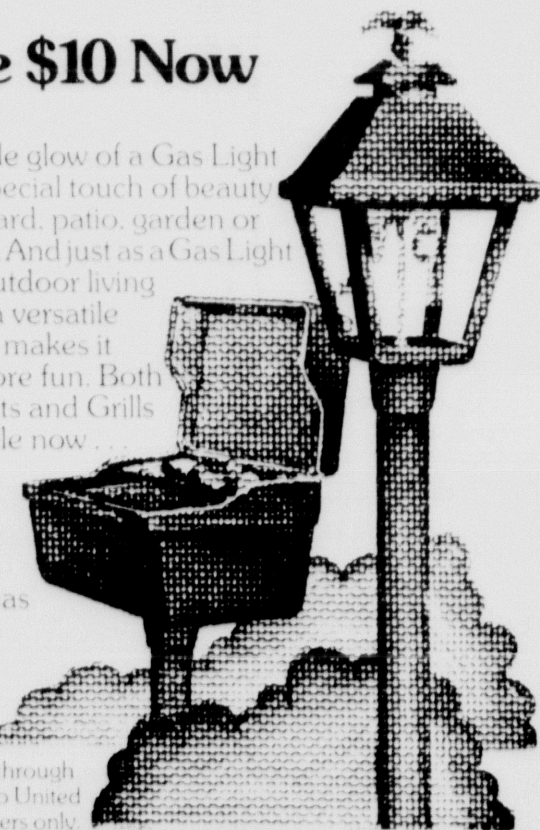

Above all, don't gather under a tree. It's the most unsafe place to be in a thunderstorm.

ALMOST COMPLETED . . . As restoration work on century-old St. Louis Church in Castroville nears completion, three key personnel in the renovation activities gather in front of the Official Historical Medallion that was awarded to the historic landmark in 1970. From left to right are Finance Dept. chairman Frank Ducos, Building board head Tommy Hoog, who is also foreman of the renovation job, and Rev. Lawrence J. Stuebben, pastor of St. Louis Parish.

By Gaye Bippert
Medina Co. Ext. Agent

Frozen fruits and vegetables spice year round menus with garden-fresh flavor. But the nutritive value and quality of these fruits and vegetables depend largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature and method of cooking and serving.

Most fruit can be frozen satisfactorily, according to Gaye Bippert.

Select sound, ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning but not soft or mushy. Tree or vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and a richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

In general fruit is prepared for freezing as for eating.

Keep fruit cool until it is frozen. Wash it in cold water but do not allow it to stand in the water. Some fruit loses food value and flavor and some gets water soaked, she said.

Some fruits, such as peaches, apricots, apples and pears, discolor easily. Mrs. Bippert suggests ways to prevent this.

Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is available in tablet, crystalline or powdered form. Use 1/2 teaspoon of this per quart of syrup to prevent this discoloration.

If you don't want to pack the fruit in syrup, sprinkle dissolved ascorbic acid over fruit just before adding sugar. Use 1/2 teaspoon in 1/2 cup cold water to each quart of fruit.

Mrs. Bippert said some special commercial anti-darkening preparation of ascorbic acid are now on the market.

These materials can be found at drug stores or where other freezing supplies are sold.

Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Some may be packed without sweetening for use in special diets.

The way you plan to use the fruit determines the method of packing it. Fruit packed in a syrup generally is better for dessert use; fruit packed in dry sugar or unsweetened is better for most cooking because there is less liquid in the products.

Quickly getting vegetables from the garden to the freezer is a must for top-quality frozen vegetables. During hot weather, harvest vegetables in the early morning before they absorb much heat, advises Mrs. Bippert.

Vegetables at optimum maturity will have best flavor and texture.

If you must store vegetables before freezing, the Extension Agent recommends spreading them out loosely in a cool, well-ventilated place or packing loosely in the refrigerator.

Prepare vegetables for freezing similar to cooking them. Wash thoroughly in cold water, drain and sort, peel, trim and cut.

Heat vegetables in boiling water before freezing. Use one gallon of boiling water to each pound of vegetable. The length of heating time varies with the vegetables.

This kills enzyme action in the product. Mrs. Bippert says the enzymes help the plants grow and mature but if not deactivated the vegetables will develop off flavors and often discolor or toughen during freezing.

Place the scalded vegetables immediately into running cold or ice water. When the product is cool to the tongue when tested, it is cool enough to pack.

After the vegetables have been heated, cooled and drained, pack in airtight moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving 1/2 inch headspace, advises the County Extension Agent. Seal according to type of container you use.

Mrs. Bippert recommends cooking all vegetables in the frozen state, except corn-on-the-cob which should be partially defrosted. Cook them only until tender in a small amount of water.

Library News

The Summer Story Hour for youngsters ages 4 to 5 and 6 to 7 will be held at Hondo Public Library starting Wednesday, June 13, according to Jan Oefinger, Hondo Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, the sponsoring organization.

These young people will gather at the library every Wednesday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. for six weeks to take part in story-telling, games and other activities.

The library will begin its Summer Reading Program on Monday, June 18, and will finish July 30. This program is open to all school-age children from kindergarten through high school.

Anyone wishing to participate in this activity must register at the library by June 18 and must read at least two books per week, or a total of twelve books. Certificates from the Texas State Library will be awarded to each person completing the required reading.

Lottie, Maw, librarian, reports she has been notified by the Texas State Library that the Hondo library has been awarded a grant of $475 for the purchase of needed books and equipment.

Good friends have added much material to library shelves in recent weeks. Books were received from Barbara Weems, including Jennie, the Life of Lady Randolph Churchill, and also gourmet magazines and paperbacks.

Books and paperbacks were donated by Mrs. Parker Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. John Coyle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herring. Other books were given by Helen Fecci of San Antonio, Maude Bulgerin, Karl Reinartz, Mrs. Louis Mazurek and Mrs. Pearl Sapp, a set of Book of Knowledge.

A wide selection of paperbacks and magazines were contributed by Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Meyer, Mrs. Mildred Teague and Gladys Lindeburg, youth fiction.

Other magazines came from Drs. W. S. and Rebecca Duty, medical; Mr. and Mrs. E. Kollman, stamps and ceramics; the Paul Reilly family, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd L. Rothe, Wesley DeGroot, Mrs. H. C. Oefinger, Inez Short and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Redus, who also brought a floral display.

From Charles E. Cominore the library received a county courthouse catalog. Two new books from Doubleday Book Club are now available. They are Nethergate by Norah Loft and To Serve Them all my Days by R. F. Delderfield. The Sesame Street Song Book has been obtained from Literary Guild.

Mrs. Maw extends sincere thanks to those of you who have returned your overdue books. Others who still have not returned their books are reminded to do so as soon as possible. The bookdrop is always open for your convenience.
